Jeffrey S. Feinman

With over 25 years of accounting experience at DDK, Jeffrey Feinman's career reflects a deep commitment to excellence and forward-thinking leadership. In 2023, he was named Managing Partner, taking on the responsibility of setting the firm's vision, direction, and strategic goals while upholding the highest professional standards.

In his role, Jeffrey drives firm-wide initiatives, fosters business development, and nurtures long-standing client relationships. He continues to expand DDK's reach by attracting new clients across diverse industries including arts, sports, entertainment, technology, business, fashion, and law—while ensuring each client receives tailored, high-quality service.

His contributions to the field have earned him recognition as a Long Island Business News Influencer in Accounting for both 2024 and 2025. This honor highlights leaders who demonstrate exceptional client service, community involvement, and forward-looking innovation in the accounting profession.

At the core of Jeffrey's approach is a genuine dedication to helping clients reach their financial goals. He enjoys working closely with clients and colleagues and takes pride in the lasting relationships he's built over the years.

Outside the office, Jeffrey enjoys exploring New York City's theatre scene, visiting art galleries, and discovering new fine dining experiences. He's also an avid fan of hockey and tennis. As a New York Rangers season ticket holder — and with the DDK office being next to Madison Square Garden — Jeffrey can often be found at a game, on the glass.
