A dedicated athlete, Cliff Maldow brings the same determination to helping clients facing challenging situations as he does to practicing karate as a 3rd Degree Black Belt. “When I get clients the outcome they deserve, it’s a victory for us both. I am inspired to keep going until I get that victory,” says Cliff, a DDK partner for over seven years.

His practice covers Management Advisory Services and pursuing new business for the firm, in addition to his core responsibilities in the accounting, audit and tax fields. Cliff’s diversified client portfolio includes real estate companies, manufacturers, distributors and firms in a number of professional service industries.

Prior to joining DDK, he was the Managing Partner at HBM & Company.

The former board member of the Temple of Elohim also practices yoga, works hard in the gym and supports the New York Islanders.
