Focusing on providing expert consulting services to closely held businesses, Richard Klinghoffer has devoted all of his 35 professional years to DDK.

“I like assisting businesses as they achieve the next level of success and especially enjoy working with multi-generational family businesses,” says the veteran partner, who works with a number of wholesale distribution and manufacturing companies, as well as medical practices and law firms.

A dedicated professional who divides his energies between home, office and community, he volunteers with The Make-A-Wish Foundation, Voices Against Brain Cancer, and The United Jewish Federation (UJA).

“I believe in the importance of work/life balance and I pass this belief to my partners and all of the employees of DDK,” says Richard. “I treasure the time I spend with my family.”
